Wonder, The, of nature: or Europe's miracle. Being a strange account of one Hen. T' Kent, a little boy of seven years of age, at Mr. Powels coffee house near the Royal Exchange in Cornhill, who hath legible white letters round the ball of his right eye, where are plainly to be read, these words in Lattin, Meus Deus, that is, My God in English, & round the ball of his left eye the same words in Hebrew characters very plain to be seen, to the great amazement & wonder of all persons of several ages, sexes & qualities that have seen it . . . With an account how several Jews have much admitted it, and they believe he is the Messias or Christ, which they have so long look'd for . . .

1. The first thing I noticed when I stepped out of the plane was the fresh air. It felt like a breath of new life after being cooped up in a small, cramped space for hours.

2. The second thing I noticed was the beautiful view of the city below. The lights were just starting to come on, and the streets were filled with people. It was a sight I had never seen before, and it was absolutely breathtaking.

3. The third thing I noticed was the friendly people. Everyone I met was so nice and welcoming. They showed me around the city and helped me find my way. It was a truly wonderful experience, and I will never forget it.

4. The fourth thing I noticed was the delicious food. There were so many different types of food to choose from, and it was all so good. I had never tasted anything like this before, and it was a real treat.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf from an old book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with a vertical crease running down the center. There are numerous small, dark, irregular spots scattered across the surface, which are characteristic of foxing or dirt. Faint, illegible markings are visible near the top edge, possibly remnants of text or a stamp. The overall color is a warm, off-white or light beige.
